WHY THIS PACK

Degrees don't make project managers. Methods do.

1. A PhD, a master's or years on the job does not, on its own, make an efficient project manager.
2. Projects are handed to people for their titles — not for training in a recognised method.
3. Result: projects run roughly and elastically, without control of the six performance aspects.

THE FIX

A PMO that is equipped, structured, trained and documented — so every project is steered against six aspects:

- Scope
- Benefits
- Quality
- Time
- Costs
- Risks

VISION

Become the digital transformation leader in Africa by leading its programme and project management.

MISSION

Carry the burdens of companies and governments through the complex walk of digital transformation.
